There are discussion rooms where students can exchange ideas, and 24-hour study spaces for quiet study sessions. Students can also view or check-out a wide variety of audio-visual media including films and music CDs at the Multimedia Services Center. In addition, the individual colleges’ respective libraries also offer excellent resources for students to prepare for their classes or do research.

Research Visiting Programs
The Research Visiting Program is designed for students enrolled in overseas academic institutions who are interested in conducting a short-term internship or research program with an NTU faculty member. While research visiting students can make use of NTU’s academic resources, they cannot enroll in courses, and on-campus housing is not guaranteed.

NTU Plus Academy
Through NTU Plus Academy’s short–term programs, students can earn academic credits while enjoying cultural immersion. Through a series of field trips and cultural activities, students gain in–depth knowledge about the different environmental, historical and sociocultural aspects of Taiwan. The program offers courses in both Chinese and English.
